

BUILD YOUR OWN TERRIBLE TICKLER!

Now you can have your very own EVIL INVENTION (Dun dun DUN!!!), just like Sorcerer Slurm!
A Terrible Tickler is quite easy to create and requires only a few easy-to-acquire materials.

You will need:

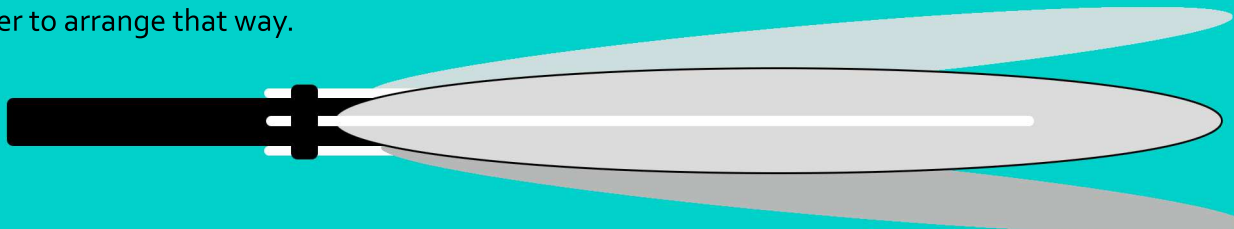

- a 3' length of 1/2" diameter PVC pipe (a wooden dowel rod works, too)
- 2 PVC pipe end caps (not necessary if you're using a wooden dowel)
- a roll of black electrical tape.
- 3-9 large crafting feathers

Preparation - If needs be, take a hacksaw and cut your pipe to 3'. If you purchase your pipe from a local hardware store, chances are you can get a length of pipe long enough to make at least two Terrible Ticklers for less than $5. If you're using PVC, secure your end caps to the pipe before you begin.

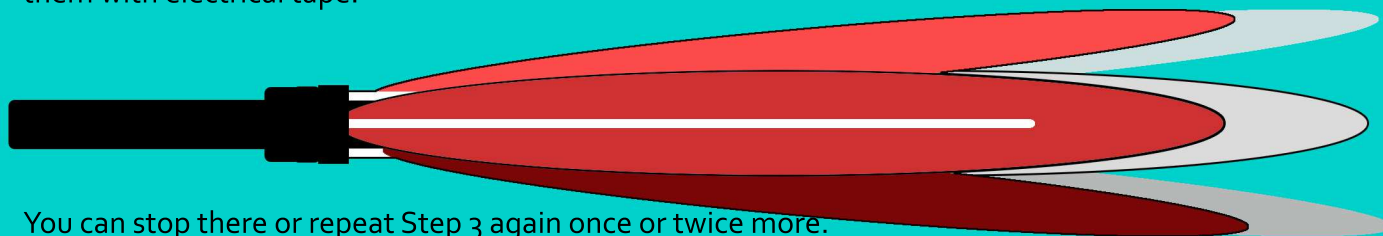

1) Wrap the length of pipe in black electrical tape.

2) Take 3-5 feathers and arrange them one end of the pipe. The quills should be flush against the end of the pipe. Wrap electrical tape around the quills, attaching them to the end of the pipe.
TIP - It's a good idea to arrange the feathers so they're curving outward from the pipe. They're easier to arrange that way.

3) Arrange another 3-5 feathers on the pipe with their quills 1-2" lower than the first layer. Secure them with electrical tape.

You can stop there or repeat Step 3 again once or twice more.

There you have it! A TERRIBLE TICKLER!!!! (Dun dun DUN!!!!) MuhuhahahaHAHAHahaha!

Have you built your own Terrible Tickler using this guide? How'd it come out?

Tweet us a picture or share it on our Facebook page!

@SuperSidekickTM | facebook.com/supersidekickthemusical

Got questions, comments or ideas for this guide?

Let us know! E-mail us using the contact form on our website!

www.supersidekick-musical.com